

From: Ronald Thomas

Sent: Wednesday, September 23, 2009

Greetings:

Having viewed your excellent web page I thought you might like two photographs of faces from the past. They are attached. I send two captions.

A 2007 photograph of R A (Alan) Holden and his wife, Norma, with younger daughter Christine. Alan was the school teacher at Nethercote about 60 years ago. Alan (now 91) and Norma are still alive and live in in their own home in South Penrith.

Lillian Brouff who worked at Armstrong & Evans, Eden, for some years until 1962 when this photograph was taken. Lillian died in New Zealand in 2006 at the age of 95. Lillian and Norma Holden are sisters.

Best wishes for your activities with the opening of the new hall. That is a mighty achievement for your community.

Ron Thomas